Arium is a new, free tool that lets you create stunning videos with your photos and video clips. It's an all-in-one media creation app with powerful tools to help turn content into incredible productions. It's never been easier to share your work with friends, family, and the world. Create custom slideshows of your photos on your TV or YouTube channel in one click. You can use it to create one-of-a-kind movies with music, photos, videos and clips. And you can edit all the elements in the HD quality you need for your productions. Arium comes with amazing creative tools so you can easily add effects to your movies.

The program is currently available in Persian in both GUI and command line options. Support for creating Windows Desktop shortcut in Windows XP/Vista/7 can be added by Microsoft's official word that they will provide support for it since they considered it "helpful" for users of this language. In the middle of 2007, Arrium received a lot of publicity from Iranian media after one of their users created a video clip with the title of "Aria" and posted it to YouTube. Arrium shut down its servers after being visited by security and police and banned all Iranian users in order to avoid issues with local officials (in particular, in Iran, people using the internet has been viewed by some authorities as essentially illegal). Arrium is currently used in several universities abroad. For example:

Arrium is also used in several virtual classrooms. Arrium has won several awards including: 1. 2008 Webware 100 of Softpedia <http://www.softpedia.com/get/Multimedia/Video/Video-Editors/Arrium-Media-Creation.-Free-Video-Editor.shtml> 2. 2007 PC Preferences Award (Best User Interface) <http://www.ccmagazine.com/07pcprefs/awards07/?page=4>
